Well Earl,

We will probably see enough of each other this summer that it will be useless for me to say some of the things here that I really could and would like to - I'm so sorry that we disagree on some subjects - but why not compromise? There is such a thing you know - Anyway, I'm awfully glad I've known you and am not half as sore on you as you seem to think - Will see you at the store - You don't know how dull it is in the evenings without you there - but you know who is taking your place!!! Love, Nellie

— The Follies of 1930 —

Foreword

Our incentive in publishing this book has been the desire to create a symbol of the spirit of investigation and the zest for inquiry so characteristic of the student body of Auburn High School, and the establishing of a permanent record of our final high school year. If these are embodied in the pages of this book, our purpose has been accomplished.

— The Follies of 1930 —

Dedication

What man has, he has created for himself. He has formed marvelous civilizations. We dedicate the Follies of 1930 to that urge in man which prompts him to excavate previous civilizations, to unearth from his social heritages the foundation of this present civilization, and to the spirit that permeates him with a desire to secure more knowledge by research in scientific and philosophical fields.

— Auburn, Indiana —

Prologue

Life moves. Situations at their occurrences may appear unpleasant or amusing, commonplace or climacteric. Future changes our viewpoints. In the Fifties of this century alumni of A. H. S. will search the pages of this record of our excavations and pronounce as trivial what we now think important, and consequential what appears to us as matters of indifference. From this sentiment the Follies of 1930 has been evolved. This book is a true portrayal of our Senior year, as we see it. We have endeavored to include those things that will permit each reader to view his school life in the light of his own experiences.

Summary of Views

The high school grounds consist of about one and one-half city blocks located in the 700 and 800 blocks, South Main Street. Most of the area is built upon; only a small amount is left for lawn and play ground. The main building or McIntosh Building, the heating plant, and the Alumni Gymnasium are located in this area.

The grounds on which the McIntosh building and the heating plant are built were a gift of Mr. William McIntosh, and consist of the whole 800 block. In appreciation of Mr. McIntosh's gift and his life long interest and participation in education the school city of Auburn named the main building The McIntosh Building. The structure was erected in 1918.

The Alumni Gymnasium was built in 1925 out of funds raised by the Alumni of A. H. S. and Athletic Association money. Since erection, the gymnasium has been in daily use for the physical education program.

The Eckhart Public Library, located one block north and one block west of the McIntosh Building, is used by the high school students. Arrangement is made by which students may go to the library for study and reading. The building was a gift of Mr. Charles Eckhart in 1910.

The Wood Shop is located on the Junior High School grounds. In a few years, due to the steady increase in the size of the high school student body, the McIntosh Building will be extended east until it squares with the heating plant. The original plans of the building called for the extension but war prices at the time of building necessitated curtailing the size.

The space between the McIntosh Building and the Alumni Gymnasium is cemented and is used as parking space for students' cars.

The arrangement and architecture of the building are pleasing to the eye. The architecture is simple and American and gives an air of quiet dignity. One is attracted and invited to enter.

Graduates will remember always the pleasant and profitable days in classrooms and will thrill again when they recall some of the royal contests in the gymnasium.

ADMINISTRATION

Administration

A four year search for knowledge is tedious. A mere cognizance of facts is often lacking in color, even with a competent group of advisers. Fortunately, however, our quest for enlightenment has been comparatively pleasant, for the faculty has from the beginning taken a deep interest in our progress, to an extent far beyond that required. Each extra-curricular activity has been encouraged by some faculty member. Now at the desinence of their High School career, the Seniors can visualize the extent of the Faculty's assistance.

School Board

H. L. Brown

Mr. Brown is one of Auburn's most enthusiastic basketball fans and has done much at the games to prompt enthusiasm in others. As a member and secretary of our School Board he is indispensable.

Willis Rhoads

Mr. Rhoads is another Auburn High School enthusiast and has the interest of the school always at heart. It is with the greatest respect that his ideas for the good of the school are received.

H. W. Timbrook

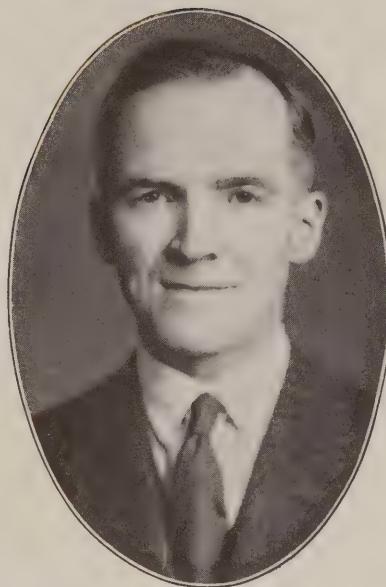

Mr. Timbrook is noted for his reliability and dependability regarding all affairs of the school. It takes Mr. Timbrook, as the third member, to complete our ideal School Board. Mr. Timbrook along with Mr. Brown has served the school several years. The Board has continuously given the people of Auburn an honest and capable administration.

Faculty

H. L. McKenney, B. S., A. B.
Superintendent

*Valparaiso University
Wisconsin University
Indiana University
University of Chicago
University of Cincinnati*

Another trait of Mr. McKenney's was brought to light this year—his musical ability. It would be hard to find any superintendent who knows every student under his supervision so well, who is so universally well liked, and whose every thought is for the good of his school.

Julia M. Duncan

Clerk

If there's anything you need or if you want a little fun just go to Judy. She'll never disappoint you. Always pleasant, always in a hurry, but always ready to stop and have a chat. What would the head office be without Judy and her smile?

E. F. Fribley, A. B., A. M.
Principal

*DePauw University
Columbia University*

If it were not for Mr. Fribley's clear thinking, square deals, and good sportsmanship theories and practices, Auburn High's standard would not be so far above par. The Seniors, having four years of association with him, find there is no one like him.

History

Frank W. Weathers, A. B.

*DePauw University
Muncie Normal
University of Chicago*

Again "Skeet" has tried new methods most of which have worked out successfully. It is thought by some that according to indications from his depictions Mr. Weathers should take up art! As Junior class adviser he brought another class through with flying colors.

Lloyd Miller, A. B.

*University of Michigan
Tri-State College*

Quiet, but always smiling. Mr. Miller teaches citizenship and Sophomore history. He came to Auburn High from Ashley where he taught last year. It might be well to notice that in an Auburn-Ashley game he yells for Auburn and hopes she wins for "personal reasons."

Maude S. Armstrong

*Michigan State Normal College
Syracuse University
University of Chicago*

Latin is not more difficult than other subjects when taught by one who is so thoroughly acquainted with the subject as Miss Armstrong. Her fourth year students have found Virgil a most interesting subject.

English

Gladys Duguid, A. B.

*Indiana University
University of Michigan
Columbia University*

Quiet and unassuming, Miss Duguid nevertheless gets results from her Freshman, Junior, and Senior classes. This year she had the largest French class she has ever taught. It is really remarkable some of the work her Freshmen English classes have accomplished.

Sue Morton, A. B.

*DePauw University
University of Wisconsin
Northwestern University*

Due to illness Miss Morton was unable to be with us all year. She made a "go" of all she attempted: Sophomore class adviser, Faculty adviser of the Chatterbox Staff, and director of the play, "The Whole Town's Talking."

Carol Dawson, A. B., A. M.

*Tri-State College
University of Chicago
Indiana University*

Miss Dawson is never too busy to help someone. Almost anytime of the day you may find her at her desk busily marking Junior and Senior English papers or listening to the hundred and one students reciting.

Vocational

Charles G. Hornaday, A. B. S.

Purdue University

Although not very talkative it is thought that Mr. Hornaday gets the full benefit of the gossip that ensues in the corridors at noon. The rewards won by his agriculture boys prove that all his instructions has been profitable.

Martha Jenkins, B. S.

*Louisiana State Normal
Indiana State Normal*

It has been through Miss Jenkins' efforts that the 4-H Club has kept up an able record.

Hilda Kreft, B. S.

Purdue University

Always pleasant—never too busy to have some fun—that's Miss Kreft all over. Her Home Economics girls could tell you that she's one of the best pals and teachers combined that ever came their way.

Commercial

Clyde M. Gumpf

*Manchester College
Indiana University
Drake University
Indiana State Normal*

Although business is his job, Mr. Gumpf likes a joke as well as anyone. This year he has done something that is quite unusual for Auburn High School—he has brought to light some really good boy bookkeepers.

Ruth Anne Foulke, A. B.

*Earlham College
University of Chicago
University of Wisconsin*

Due to the fact that Miss Foulke has taken over all the typing classes this year she has spent most of her time proving to her students that accuracy counts. All in school consider her their special friend.

*To Ruth Anne of
the most interesting evening of Science I know you are a friend to you Science*

Robert Schooley, A. B., A. M.

*Indiana State Normal
University of Marseilles,
Marseilles, France
Indiana University*

There's something wrong if Mr. Schooley hasn't a story to tell to his class. It is worth a whole day's school to attend just one of his classes and to get the benefit of his humor along with the science instruction.

Mathematics

Donald Coar, A. B.

*Indiana University
University of Wisconsin*

Coar not only teaches mathematics but coaches a winning second team. To all reports, those who ride with him to and from the out-of-town games are shown the time of their lives. He is a good sport when with the boys.

Manual Training

Isaac Cosper

*Tri-State College
Purdue University
Wisconsin University*

Mr. Cosper is noted for the fact that he changes his mind frequently and is one of the most enthusiastic fans of the Noon League games. He is well liked by all the boys who have taken woodwork under his instruction.

Art

Lydia Sellers

*Chicago Art Institute
Teachers' College, Indianapolis
Applied Art School, Chicago
Butler University*

To be in Miss Seller's art classes has always been a pleasure, due mostly to her pleasing ways. It was under her direction that the posters for the play and operetta and the unique art work of the "Follies" was put out.

Physical Education

Cecil Young, A. B.

*DePauw University
University of Illinois
University of Michigan*

Coach Young teaches his boys fair play and sportsmanship not only to be practiced in his classes but everywhere. Much of the credit for the success of this year's basketball team is given to Coach Young.

Thelma Hendricks, A. B.

*Tri-State College
Ball Teachers' College
University of Wisconsin*

"Burkie" with her chicken dinner proposition, hard training and good material put out the best girls' basketball team the school has ever claimed. She introduced dancing and a "Round Robin" tourney in her gym classes which stimulated interest of the girls.

Music

Clarice McKinney

*Northwestern University
DePauw University
Evansville College*

"Mac," this year's smallest acquisition to the faculty, has proved that those southerners have a few things to teach us. She's the one who put out the winning chorus and made "The Wishing Well" so enjoyable. She has won over the hearts of everyone this year with her big, ready smile.

Summary of Administration

Auburn High School offers four curriculi: College Entrance, Commercial, Vocational Agriculture, Vocational Home Economics. The College Entrance Curriculum is the regular series of academic subjects and is planned for those students who consider going to college. The other three curriculi are vocational in nature. Shop, art, and music are also offered.

Four years of physical education are now required, which are expected to be active gymnastic work. However, students physically disabled may reduce their physical education to one half unit and must take two years in health education. Doctors' certificates are required of all disabled students.

A year of citizenship is required for graduation. This may be the freshmen course in citizenship or the senior civics and economics. Three years of English are required. These must be freshmen, sophomore, and junior units.

This year Miss Foulke taught typewriting. In previous years both Miss Foulke and Mr. Gumpf taught it. Mr. Gumpf taught all the bookkeeping, salesmanship, shorthand, and business English classes. Miss Morton taught a half year course in public speaking the first semester. Miss Armstrong taught Virgil this year and will offer Cicero next year.

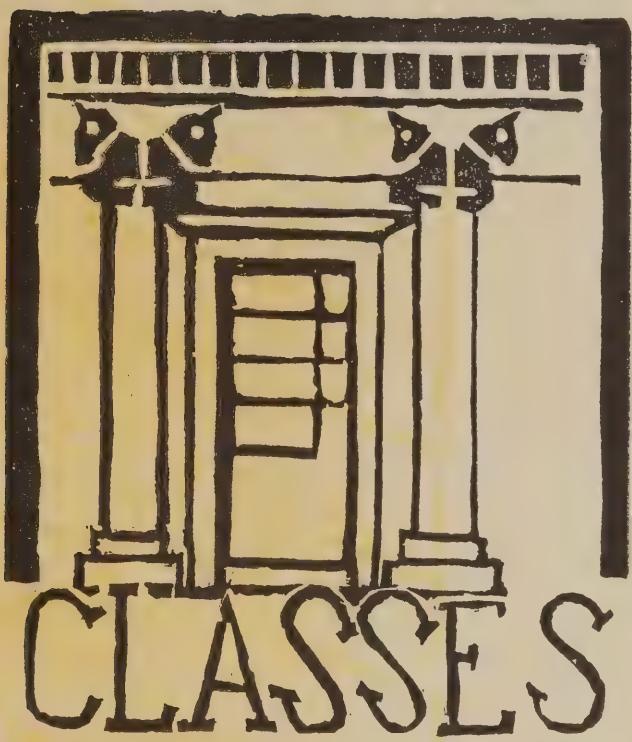

Mr. Miller, Miss Kreft, and Miss McKinney were the new members of the faculty this year. They replaced Miss Brackmier, Miss Markley, and Miss Hixon.

Due to the decrease in pupils taking some subject and the increase in students in other subjects, a number of classes were changed. As an example of this, bookkeeping had three classes this year in place of one last year.

Botany and physical geography were dropped from the curriculum. Next year biology will be put in as a sophomore science. All freshmen may now take citizenship, instead of botany, in order to satisfy the citizenship requirement for graduation.

The total enrollment for the year has been three hundred sixty-five, the largest student body Auburn High School has ever had. This year's graduate group of seventy-six is the largest the school has had.

The Administration has purposefully made for a good school morale. The year has been marked by a cordial cooperation of faculty and students.

Classes

The advent of each school year finds a new group of pupils, called Freshmen, striving to unearth for their own satisfaction, the mysteries of their new home. The toilers are assisted by three groups already experienced in the great excavation for knowledge: the Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. These entertain the newcomers royally, directing them into the fields of education. The following pages give an insight into the activities of the four classes.

Senior Honor Students

Helen Smith

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Vocational Club 1-2; Honor Group 4; Glee Club 4.

Helen never has very much to say. She is a very studious girl and makes good grades. She is a good sport in everything and takes part not only in commercial work but also in athletics.

Helen Snyder

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 3; Commercial Group 3; Honor Group 1-2; Basketball 1-3; Chatterbox 2-3-4; Follies Staff 4; History Club 3-4.

Helen is one of those all-around girls participating in every activity. She earned a basketball sweater, is journalistically inclined and has appeared in the commercial group and the honor group.

Ruth Clement

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 1-2-3; Contest Chorus 1-2-3; Honor Group 2-3; Operetta 2-3; Chatterbox 4; History Club 3-4; Commercial Group 3.

Ruth is another one of our bright stars. Study is her middle name but she has found time to enter musical activities. Ruth's laugh is contagious and her friends are many. What better combination than this could you ask?

Ruth Barnhart

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 3-4; Glee Club 1-2-3; Operetta 1-2; Senior Play 3-4; Contest Chorus 1-2; Double Quartette 2-3; Chatterbox 4; Follies Staff 4; History Club 3-4; Commercial Group 3; Honor Roll 2; County winner in Essay Contest 4.

Although Ruth is a rather quiet, demure, little blonde, the contest chorus and double quartette would have been lost without her as their able pianist. She surely has pep when it comes to operettas.

Ethelyn Anthony

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4.

As unhurried and as quiet a person as Ethelyn is seldom without friends. She is always to be seen driving over the streets in her car. One seldom finds her without her studies fully prepared.

Virginia Baker

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; Senior Play 4; Honor Group 1; Chatterbox 1-2-3-4; News Editor 4; Follies Staff 4; History Club 3-4; Secretary-Treasurer 4; Contest Chorus 1-2-3-4; Double Quartette 2-3-4; Operetta 1-2-3-4; Class Vice President 2; Interscholastic 2-3-4; Basketball 4; Hi-Y 4; County winner in Voice 3.

James Balzer

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Football 1-2-3; Basketball 2; Track 1; Follies Staff 4.

Little but mighty. What could be done without Jim? His talents and ability have led him far beyond the realms of study. He cultivates all of the fine arts. He is deserving of much credit for the outstanding work he has done.

Ruth Bartles

Ruth is one of these good basketball guards, envied by all girls. Not only has she helped make the team what it is but she is a consistent student as well. Depend on Ruth if one wants something done.

Claude S. Baum

A football player in every sense of the word. A diligent worker and manners beyond compare. He's always the same and always cheerful. All of these things and many more are the virtues of Claude. He wins friends every place he goes.

Wilma Becker

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4 Glee Club 2; Interscholastic Contest 3; Commercial Group 3; Orchestra 4.

Brains and beauty! Wilma surely has 'em. She has been outstanding in commercial work. Her Junior year, she accompanied the Glee Club, Chorus, Orchestra, and Double Quartette at the piano.

LuEda Beuret

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 1-2-3-4; History Club 3; Contest Chorus 2-3; Operetta 2-3; Follies Staff 4.

Musical organizations and productions during her four years of high school life have felt LuEda working conscientiously and hard to make them successful. She is quiet—yet always thinking of others and making friends.

Edward Blum

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 2-3-4; History Club 3-4; Hi-Y 3-4, Vice President 4; Booster Club 3-4, President 3; Track 2-3; Whole Town's Talking 4; The Boomerang 3; Follies Staff 4; Discussion 4, DeKalb County Winner 4.

Wouldn't it be terrible if someone were to steal Ed's Ford? It follows him like a lost lamb, for where his Ford is, there he is also. But he graciously has saved his friends many walks home.

Bertha M. Bowman

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1; Commercial Group 3; Glee Club 4.

This studious member of the class has very carefully arranged plans for her future which do not take her far from her own fireside. She was another toiling member of the commercial group.

Barbara Brandon

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 4; Chatterbox 2-3-4; History Club 3; Follies Staff 4; Honor Group 3-4; Commercial Group 4.

Barbara Brandon was indispensable to the Chatterbox for three years. Her excellent theme work in English and her journalistic reputation along with honors in other studies stamp her as one of the real students of the class.

Josephine Brandon

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Glee Club 1-2-3; Operetta 1-2-3; Honor Group 3; History Club 3; Contest Chorus 1-2; Commercial Group 3-4.

Jo is a hard worker and loves the piano; her services have been called for several times along this line. But she has another interest now. In spite of it she keeps up her reputation for having endless energy.

Marcelle Carper

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 2-3-4; Basketball 3-4; Vocational Club 1-2.

As a forward on the girls basketball team, Marcelle proved her worth. A. H. S. looks for big things from her because her winning smile and friendly ways spell success.

Thelma M. Cole

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; Vocational 1-2-3.

This Senior blonde has been a Vocational girl since she was a Freshman. From her first day in A. H. S. she has worked in her own style—hard and steadily. Thelma is always busy but never too busy for a friendly word to someone.

Dale Cosper

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Basketball 2-4; Hi-Y 4.

One of the quiet members of the class and still he does his share of getting into things. And then the Sophomore class keeps him up and going. He is quiet with interests not afar.

Richard Davidson

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Hi-Y 3-4; Senior Play 4; Track 1; Basketball 2; History Club 3-4.

Dick thinks that study is merely idle fancy. To accomplish things you must act, and not sit around and read about the past. He spends most of his study time trying to decide whether he should get his lessons or do something useful! We will leave you to figure out his choice.

Harold Davidson

A. H. S. 1-2-3-4; A. A. 1-2-3-4; Baseball 1-2; Football 1-2-3-4, Captain 4; Track 1-2-3-4; Basketball 1-2-3-4, Captain 4; Agricultural Club 1-2-3-4, President 2-3; Hi-Y 4; A. A. President 4.

Davy is one of the most popular boys in school. His athletic ability and good sportsmanship have won him the love and admiration of everyone. There may be better people in the world but where are they?

Frances Frederick

Marium Weidner

A. H. S. 1-3-4; A. A. 1-3-4; Basketball 1-3-4; Glee Club 3; Operetta 3.

Full of vim, vigor, and vitality, it's hard to be sure just where Mary will be next. The side-centers on the opposing teams found this to be true to the greatest extent. It will be hard to find someone to take her place in the activities of A. H. S. Marium spent her Sophomore year in Michigan.

Senior Class Activities

The class of '30 has dug into every high school activity Auburn has. During the four year expedition old records have been broken and all high school treasures have been at least tapped. Every book in the library has been kept dusted; dramatic, literary, and music activities delved into, and athletic events parred with those of the old Greeks.

The most prominent of sports was basketball in which Harold Davidson, Kurt Rastenburg, Fred Quance, George Stebing, Harry Hathaway, Robert Thimlar, and Homer Freeman proved their worth. The class also contributed its share to the girls' basketball team with Ruth Bartles, Betty Lige, Hilda Harris, Helen Snyder, Marium Weidner, Barbara Sanders, Geneva Martin, Marcelle Carper, Bernadette Guild, and Virginia Baker.

Then there was the age old game of football to which the class of '30 offered Clair Timberlin, Harold Davidson, George Stebing, Arthur Hipskind, Harry Hathaway, William Hunter, Earl Thomson, Homer Freeman, Robert Thimlar, Hebel Groscup, and Fred Quance.

In the track and field events Stebing, H. Davidson, E. Blum, Quance, Thomson, Timberlin, Hipskind, and Groscup brought to light their ability as athletes.

"Hasn't your class done anything but engage in athletic events?" is a question that might be asked. The whole group has gone through A. H. S. with the determination to win in everything, in studies as well as athletics and all other types of contests. The class has a high standing in grades. Myrtle Sockrider, Earl Thomson, Wilma Becker, Barbara Brandon, and Ruth Clement have well represented the class of '30 on the honor roll.

The double quartette chose several of its members from this prominent class. Those lucky few were Joanna Fink, Marjorie Shewmaker, and Virginia Baker. Frances Fredericks and Ruth Bartles had formerly been in this group. Ruth made an excellent pianist in the several contests between Auburn and other schools of the county.

The annual Contest Chorus, too, uncovered to the light of music the voices of Jewell Darling, Princess George, Josephine Weaver, Virginia Baker, Joanna Fink, Marjorie Shewmaker, Frances Frederick, Geraldine Ratrie, LuEda Beurett, Barbara Sanders, and Naomi LaMar. Ruth Bartles, Ruth Clement, LaVon Showers, Frances Saltsman, and Marietta Long sang in the Chorus last year.

Then there were the operettas in which the class of '30 displayed much of its talent to the public. Jewell Darling, Marion Trovinger, Robert Weaver, and Virginia Baker took leads in "In Arcady," and Marion Trovinger and Robert Weaver did their best to portray two of the character parts of "Peggy and the Pirate." Of course, the class did its share in the choruses of these operettas, and Barbara Sanders worked faithfully in coaching dances for all of them.

In the plays the class exhibited its singular radiance. Joanna Fink, Ward McCallister, Glenn Rieke, Robert Weaver, Ruth Barnhart, Roy Shoudel, and Edward Blum took parts in "The Boomerang," and Glenn Rieke, Edward Blum, Virginia Baker, Marjorie Shewmaker, Princess George, Richard Davidson, Jewell Darling, Geraldine Ratrie, Ruth Barnhart, Elizabeth Kingsley, and Roy Shoudel represented the class in "The Whole Town's Talking."

In oratory Glenn Rieke took first place in the county and in discussion Edward Blum took first place thus again bringing honor to the class and school.

This class of '30 was journalistically inclined with Helen Snyder, Marjorie Shewmaker, Arthur Hipskind, Joanna Fink, Barbara Sanders, Randall Smith, Virginia Baker, Hilda Harris, Barbara Brandon, Elizabeth Kingsley, Ruth Clement, Ruth Barnhart, and Roy Shoudel representing it on the Chatterbox Staff.

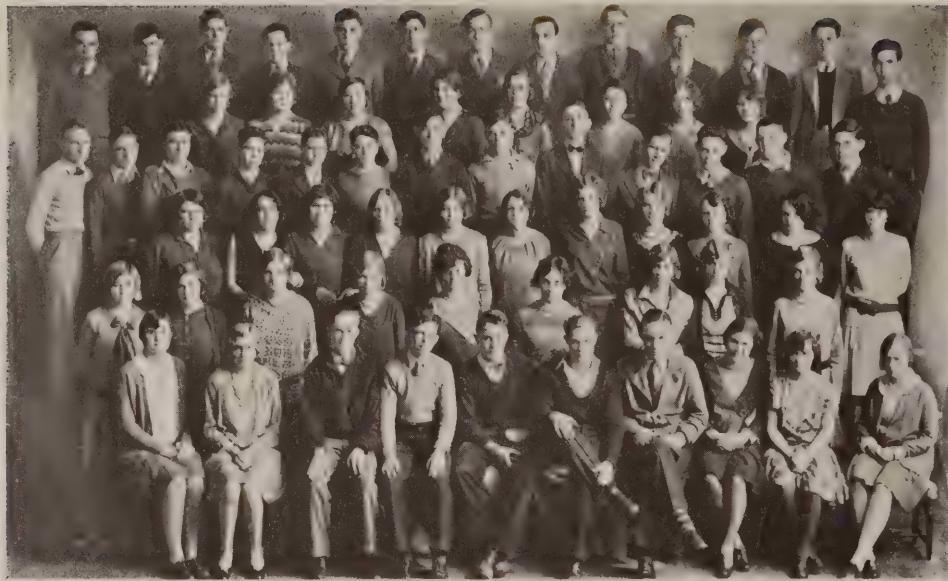

The class of 1930 had entered Auburn High School in 1926 with great ambitions. Davidson, Stebing, Groscup took their places on the football squad, and Davidson, Stebing, and Hathaway on the basketball squad. Representing the class in music and journalism were Joanna Fink, Virginia Baker, Barbara Sanders, Jewell Darling and others.

The beginning of the second year in High School the class elected Marion Trovinger, Virginia Baker, Joanna Fink, and Randall Smith to lead them. A Christmas play was given by the class, and there were more of the members engaged in all sports than from any other class.

As Juniors the class of 1930 dominated athletics, and played a large part in journalism and dramatics. Randall Smith, Princess George, Joanna Fink, and Marjorie Shewmaker were the leaders in this search for toil and pleasure.

In their last year, these students of the class of '30 have found themselves claiming another honor for their group: the largest graduating class the school has ever had. Twelve boys in football, eight boys in basketball, and twelve of the track squad will be missing in 1931. Dramatics lose many, and the oratorical and discussion representatives will have gone.

It must be repeated that this class of '30, active in every extra-curricular activity, still kept up its scholastic standard, and one might truthfully say that it has been the largest and most all around class ever to have gone through the school life of Auburn High School.

Class Officers

Classes are not able to take care of their activities as a group. They must select a few trusted members to do this.

The Seniors had as their president, Arthur Hipskind; Vice President, George Stebing; Jewell Darling, Secretary; and Joanna Fink, Treasurer. These people cooperated nicely and worked well for the good of the class.

The Juniors were led by Joe Sprott, James Huffman, Edward Welch, and Robert Lumm.

The Sophomores enjoyed a successful season under Webster Albright, Ross Webb, Murray Carpenter, and Alice Brown, while Wesley Dwight, Robert Sprott, Lenore Williams, and Phyllis Fraser gave the Freshmen a start in their high school career.

Class officers act as a student council. Matters of school interest, procedure, and administration at times are submitted to the class officer group. The annual drive for season basketball tickets is managed by the student officers.

All class officers are elected by the popular vote of their classmen. Class mothers are also chosen who help the classes with their social functions.

History of Classes

In the autumn of 1926 the class of '30 arrived in High School. They were as unfamiliar with the "ways and means" of the new life as the Freshmen of former years. The principal, Mr. Fribley, along with the kind (you know the kind!) upper classmen, soon acquainted them with the customs of school. The first real meeting held by the class was for the purpose of electing their class officers. Those selected were: Marion Trovinger, President; Barbara Sanders, Vice President; Jewell Darling, Secretary; Lester See, Treasurer; and Miss Eagles, Class Adviser. The most outstanding event of their first year was a Hallowe'en party held in the old gymnasium. Two plays were given by the more talented members of the class and everyone concluded a delightful evening by devouring pop corn balls, doughnuts, and cider.

The class was well represented in athletics by Harold Davidson, George Stebing, Hebel Groskopf, Kurt Rastenburg, Lester See, Hilda Harris, Helen Snyder, and Marium Weidner.

After three months of delightful vacation these people returned to High School much wiser than they were the previous fall. They were now Sophomores. They chose Marion Trovinger again to lead them. He was aided by Virginia Baker as Vice President, Joanna Fink, Secretary, and Randall Smith, Treasurer. The interest in athletics had grown to a great extent. Those who took part were Fred Quance, Harold Davidson, George Stebing, Kurt Rastenburg, Lester See, Randall Smith, Robert Thimlar, Homer Freeman, Dale Cosper, representing the boys and Virginia Baker, Ruth Bartles, Hilda Harris, Marium Weidner, Helen Snyder, Betty Lige as representatives of the girls. The annual class picnic at Hamilton Lake ended their successful school year.

When the Sophomores entered school in the fall of '28 they discovered they were not the only class of importance. A new class had come forward to take their old places. This group was known as the class of '31. It was headed by Joe Miller as President, Helen Mayfield, Vice President, Virginia Brown, Secretary, and Robert Knott, Treasurer. They also were known for their achievements in athletics. Members of the class were soon engaged in journalistic work.

The following September the class of '30 returned for the Junior Year. They selected Randall Smith, President; Princess George, Vice President; Joanna Fink, Secretary; Marjorie Shewmaker, Treasurer. Mr. Coar was chosen class sponser. This was the most successful year the Juniors had achieved. The members gave a Junior-Senior play, a Junior Carnival, the Junior-Senior banquet at Potawatomi Inn and a picnic at Hamilton as a climax.

The class of '31 had weathered the storm of the Freshman year and had become Sophomores. They elected Robert Raub, President; Virginia Brown, Vice President; Rachel Ball, Secretary; and Floyd Link, Treasurer. The athletes of this class were James Huffman, Edward Welch, and Gorge Kee.

Another class who came to join the ranks this year was known as the class of '32. This group was headed by Joe Davidson. The other officers were Harley Trovinger, Vice President; Vivian Refner, Secretary; and Sally Thimlar, Treasurer. The reception held in their honor made them feel at home.

The summer passed again and the class of '30 entered High School for their last time. All three of the other classes were following closely behind.

The Seniors held the first class meeting of the term. At this meeting they elected their officers for the year: Arthur Hipskind, President; George Stebing, Vice President; Jewell Darling, Secretary; and Joanna Fink, Treasurer.

Seniors were well represented in the Commercial Contest held at Kendallville, April 12. In shorthand were: Ruth Clement, Helen Snyder, and Myrtle Sockrider. They received first, second, and third places respectively. Those who took part in bookkeeping were: Wilma Becker, Helen Smith, and Marcelle Carper. The one Senior in Typing was Barbara Brandon.

The class of '31 came back as upper classmen. They chose as their leaders, Joe Sprott, President; James Huffman, Vice President; Edward Welch, Secretary; and Robert Lumm, Treasurer. Mr. Weathers was chosen as class adviser. They gave a most successful Junior Carnival and Junior-Senior Banquet.

The Sophomores were more experienced in ways of school and were more successful. They elected Webster Albright, President; Murray Carpenter, Vice President; Ross Webb, Secretary; and Alice Brown, Treasurer. Alice Brown, Horace Clarke and several others entered the Literary Contest and brought honor to themselves and the school.

The most recent class to enter High School is the class of '33. In their first meeting they elected Wesley Dwight, President; Robert Sprott, Vice President; Phyllis Fraser, Secretary; and Lenore Williams, Treasurer. Miss Duguid was chosen class adviser. This class has won a name for itself through several of its members. Dwight and Rainier entered the Oratorical Contest and received high ratings. Mae Elene Craven won honor through her musical ability. Evelyn Mottinger had the honor of being the only Freshman girl in the Contest Chorus.

Looking Ahead

It can be quite truthfully said that the class of '30 will leave many gaps in activities of Auburn High School. This is the largest and most versatile class to graduate from A. H. S. But there are always others eagerly waiting to take the places of those who have left. Sadly the class of '30 gives up its place to tackle something harder and wish the underclassmen all the success of school life.

Although the class of '31 has only a few outstanding members, those few and some others will step into place next year and do their part well. James Huffman, Ed Welch, Floyd Link, Ralph West, Bud McClure, Junior Fitzsimmons, and Arthur Drerup will probably take places on the basketball team. Virginia Brown, Rachel Ball, Virginia Dilgard, and Vivian Elson will be back to do their share of the music. Richard Shook and Harold Yoder will compete for honors in oratory and discussion, respectively.

The class of '32 has a large number of talented members who will, within the next year or so, show their worth. Vivian Refner, Rhoda Carper, Lela Miller, Ruth Groskopf, Ben Short, Murray Carpenter, Webster Albright, Harley Trovinger, and Joe Davidson will show the school that they too are basketball players. The music honors in this class will be upheld by Betty McCullough, Iris Wimer, Ruth Groskopf, Virginia Sanders, Marcelle Thimlar, and Alice Brown. Alice Brown is one of the most outstanding girls of the school due to the fact that she is one of the few girl editors of the Chatterbox A. H. S. has had and the first Sophomore editor the paper has ever had. Alice is Auburn's best reader also; she won second in the county this year. For two years Horace Clarke has taken first place in the county in the piano solo event; much may be expected of him in the future.

The Freshman class this year did not put itself in the limelight but with a year or so more experience it will do many things for the school. Evelyn Mottinger was a member of the Contest Chorus. May Elene Craven and Hildamae Shearer entered the local contest for the piano solo, and Charles Rainier and Wesley Dwight entered in the discussion contest. While these contestants did not receive first place in their respective contests, still they were helped by their experience.

The future looks promising. The new class coming from Junior High School has ability. Auburn will carry on.

ACTIVITIES

Activities

The old Greek scholar, seeking recreation after a period of exhaustive thought, found it at the theatre. The Roman student found diversion in the public baths. Today, students in high school break the monotony of study by participating in various faculty-sponsored activities, such as organizations, dramatics, music, journalism, and sports. Members of our school have an excellent field of activity open to them.

Editorial

The purpose of the Senior class in publishing a yearbook has not been wholly to experience the pleasure received from the labor involved. It is more the answering to those two impelling forces, duty and desire.

Each year the Senior class produces an Annual. These yearbooks are logs, or record books, in marking the progress of this school. When one leafs the pages of former Follies he can easily see the advancement that has been made by Auburn High School. As the school has been bettered, the annuals have been improved. Each succeeding book has held some improvement over those previously published.

It is therefore the duty of the Seniors to issue an annual, in order that the history of Auburn High School may have no missing chapters.

A natural avidity to better all other Follies publications is the other motive in preparing this book. No one relishes the thought of falling below the standard of previous years. We have striven to make this a product of our desire.

Thus it is The Follies of 1930 has been created. It is put before the public with the hope that our efforts will be appreciated.

Without able and willing assistance our endeavors would have been of little consequence. Mr. Fribley, as faculty advisor, offered at all times his valuable service and advice. The Auburn Greeting Card Company cooperated at all times in printing. Mr. Jones, the photographer, gave us special attention, and the Fort Wayne Engraving Company did excellent photo engraving work. Covers were supplied by the David J. Molloy Company of Chicago.

Honor Group

Each year, it has been the custom of Auburn High to select an Honor Group to represent its scholastic interests. It is composed of the four students receiving the highest average grades in each of the four classes. The method by which they are chosen is very simple. The grades "A" counts as one point, "B," two, "C," three, and so on. The sixteen students having the lowest score are chosen. If there should happen to be a tie between two or more students, all are included in the group.

The Honor Group is not a club or an organization of any kind. It corresponds to Honor Roll of the Chatterbox. Each six weeks the roll of those receiving two or more "A's" for that period is published. So the Honor Roll of the Follies is created to show which students ranked highest for the year. The purpose of the roll is to give to the students who excelled scholastically a merited honor.

The Honor Group consists of the following, named in order of their class superiority:

Art Department

Auburn High School has a splendid art course and a capable teacher in Miss Sellers. Although the course covers but one year, students are taught the fundamental principles and get a secure foundation for further study.

Miss Sellers is capable of seeing beauty around her and appreciating it. She also has the faculty of getting her pupils to see with the "mind's eye" and create objects which are beautiful and exceedingly artistic.

With the help of Miss Sellers many useful things are made for the home, such as lamp shades, scarfs, and wall hangings, and such personal articles as handkerchiefs.

Other departments of Auburn High have found the art student "an ever present help in time of need" when posters were to be made for the high school play or operetta.

The art work for the Annual is also furnished by the more advanced members of the class.

Commercial art is another phase of the class work in which unusual ability has been shown.

Chatterbox Staff

The Chatterbox is now nine years old. As in times past it holds an excellent rating among the papers of the state.

The members chosen to carry on the work for the first semester were: Miss Sue Morton, Editor-General; Randall Smith, Editor-in-Chief; Joanna Fink, Associate Editor; Arthur Hipskind, Business Manager; Joe Sprott, Advertising Manager; and Glen Rieke, Circulation Manager.

The Chatterbox sent delegates to the Indiana High School Press Association at Franklin in October. Miss Morton, Alice Brown, Glen Rieke, Arthur Hipskind, and Webster Albright represented the school.

At the end of the first semester an election was held and a new staff was chosen. The major staff is: Miss Morton, Editor-General; Alice Brown, Editor-in-Chief; Robert Lumm, Associate Editor; Virginia Dilgard, News Editor; Maxine Farley, Feature Editor; Virginia Brown, Athletics; Joe Sprott, Athletics; Virginia Sanders, Society; Iris Wimer, Exchange; Lydia Renz, Jokes; Betty McCullough, Vocational; Joe Davidson, Vocational; Webster Albright, Business Manager; Wesley Dwight, Advertising Manager; Robert Graham, Circulation Manager.

The new staff published several issues of the Chatterbox under the direction of Mrs. Young in the absence of the regular Editor-General, Miss Morton.

History Club

The History Club is an organization whose membership is based principally upon scholarship. It consists of students of history and economics having an average grade of C or above.

Mr. Frank Weathers, history instructor, organized the club in 1921 with an aim that was both educational and social. He has been the faithful sponsor through all the succeeding years.

The meetings are held bi-weekly, on Wednesday evening. Varied programs are given. They include book reviews, reports of the habits and customs of different countries studied, and playlets.

One program that was especially interesting, and the one that drew the largest attendance during the past year was the presentation of "The Naturalization of Tony De Prato" which characterized the foreigner going through the process of law necessary to become an American citizen. Forty-nine members were present on this occasion.

The social part of each program gives the students a less serious attitude toward life and concludes with "eats" which are the joy of youth!

The officers were: President, Roy Shoudel; Vice President, Princess George; Secretary and Treasurer, Virginia Baker; and Publicity, Joanna Fink.

Girls' Hi-Y

The Girls Hi-Y is the youngest club in high school. It was organized the first semester of the school year.

The purpose of the club is to promote a deeper interest in high standards of Christian character, to foster a closer friendship and harmony between its members and to encourage social interest.

At the first meeting the officers and supervisors were chosen. They are: President, Virginia Dilgard; Vice President, Virginia Brown; Secretary, Virginia Baker; and Treasurer, Helen Mayfield. Mrs. Hendricks was chosen sponsor. Her co-workers are Mrs. W. C. McBride representing the mothers, and Mr. H. G. Krider, the Y. M. C. A.

Professional men and women gave interesting and helpful talks on various subjects at the weekly meetings. A typical one was given by Mrs. Craven on "Character Building." She named three necessary stepping stones in gaining a desirable character. They are honesty, truth, and dependability.

Among the many things done this year was the holding of a Bake Sale at the Confectionery. Enough money was raised for the necessary expenditures of the club and a small amount left to replenish the treasury.

Boys' Hi-Y

Following the motto "Clean Sportsmanship, Clean Speech, Clean Athletics, and Clean Scholarship," the Hi-Y has completed one of the most successful years since its organization in the Auburn High School.

The leadership of such an organization is always one of the most difficult tasks, but the boys chose capable leaders in President William Hunter; Vice President, Edward Blum; Secretary, Clair Timberlin; and Treasurer, George Stebing; Sponsors, Mr. Fribley and Mr. Krider.

The weekly luncheons have been filled with "beans" and numerous talks and discussions by the various business men of the town. In previous years the club has emphasized the social side of school life, but owing to the organization of so many clubs for that purpose it has been found impossible to put on the usual number of banquets and parties.

There was, however, one money-making event. It took place during the Christmas holidays. The boys gave a raffle and a large twenty pound turkey was offered. The students and the townspeople were interested in helping the Hi-Y fellows reach their goal. The proceeds amounted to twenty-seven dollars.

Glee Club

The Glee Club under the direction of Miss Clarice McKinney has been among the successful organizations in Auburn High School. The membership depends upon the ability to pass certain tests in voice.

The members of the Glee Club have appeared on various programs and their songs were always given hearty applause. Their selections were greatly appreciated and enjoyed by the Parent-Teachers Association before which they frequently sang.

Some of the selections most popular this year were "Carmena" by Wilson, "The Green Cathedral" by Hahn, "Swing Along" by Cook, "I Passed by Your Window" by Brahe, and "Spring" by Boutelle.

There was an enrollment of fifty girls in the Club this year. From the number Miss McKinney chose the Double Quartette and twenty-two girls for the Contest Chorus. She seemed to have an art for choosing because the Chorus received first in the County Meet and the quartette was awarded second place.

The operetta cast was also selected from the group of girls in the club who had shown exceptionally good work along the line of music.

First row—Ratrie, Barnhart, Weaver, V. Sanders, B. Sanders, Miss McKinney, Darling, George, LaMar, Mottinger, Baker

Second row—Groscup, Hughes, Thimlar, Beuret, Ball, Fink, Shewmaker, V. Brown, Elson, A. Brown, Wimer

Contest Chorus

Twenty-four girls were selected by Miss McKinney from the Glee Club to form the Contest Chorus which represented Auburn in the County Literary and Musical contest. The composition agreed upon by the Contest Chorus girls was made up of three parts. The song chosen was "The Venetian Love Song," by Ethelbert, a tuneful and melodic number.

Contrary to the usual custom Auburn and Garrett did not meet in a separate contest. Instead they met with the other schools of the county in a contest on March 21, which the Auburn girls won.

A large loving cup was won by the Chorus in the county contest. This is the second year this cup has been awarded to Auburn and it now remains the property of the school.

Members of the chorus are: 1st sopranos: Iris Wimer, Virginia Baker, Josephine Weaver, Jewell Darling, Princess George, Virginia Dilgard, Vivian Elson, Betty McCullough; 2nd sopranos: Virginia Sanders, Marjorie Shewmaker, Joanna Fink, Frances Frederick, Alice Brown, LuEda Beuret, Geraldine Ratrie; Altos: Ruth Groscup, Marcelle Thimlar, Rachel Ball, Naomi LaMar, Evelyn Mottinger, Barbara Sanders.

Ruth Barnhart was the pianist for the group.

First row—Rose, Baker, Craven, Ball, Musser, Hughes

Second row—Lockwood, Herrick, J. Harris, Elson, Kimmel, Brown, Miss McKinney

Third row—Foote, Carper

Orchestra

The orchestra is the instrumental group of the High School. It is peculiar in the fact that it has but one Senior. As practice makes perfect, the group ought to be quite outstanding in the coming year.

Miss McKinney, who has an excellent knowledge of the different instruments, has directed the orchestra quite successfully throughout the year.

It has furnished the music for the Junior-Senior play, and for the operetta.

Anyone in high school is eligible. The interest shown by the members during 1929-30 has improved the organization and assures marked development for next year.

The orchestra has two practice periods of forty-five minutes each week. During this time they have worked with music of an outstanding type. Those who compose the personell of the orchestra are: flute, Vivian Elson; saxophone, Dale Lockwood, and Charles Rose; cornets, John Harris, and Russell Herrick; clarinets, Earl Baker and John Bishop; violins, Rachel Ball, Ellen Jeanette Walters, Mae Elene Craven, Rhoda Carper, Georgia Musser, Marguerite Kimmell, Maxine Foot, and Virginia Brown; drums and bells, Gwendolyn Hughes; pianist, Wilma Becker.

Second row—Ball, Brown, Blum, Rieke, Shewmaker, Fink*

Interscholastic

Auburn High School was represented this year by one of the best literary-music groups that the school has ever produced.

The first meet was held at the Auburn M. E. Church on March 21. The events were oration, discussion, essay, vocal solo, and contest chorus. The second meet was held March 28. The events at this one were reading, piano solo, and double quartette. Teams from Ashley, St. Joe, Garrett, Spencerville, Waterloo, Butler, and Auburn took part. Auburn won five firsts, two seconds, and a third.

Glenn Rieke with his oration on the Constitution won first place in the oratorical event. Edward Blum far surpassed his opponents with his discussion on "Does Indiana Need a New Constitution." These two events are the most important. The county winner of each may go on to higher meets.

The chorus won its event with the selection "The Venetian Love Song." The double quartette won second place with "Morning" by Iley Speaks. The quartette was composed of Virginia Baker, Iris Wimer, Marjorie Shewmaker, Joanna Fink, Ruth Groscup, Gwendolyn Hughes, Rachel Ball, and Virginia Brown.

Alice Brown won second in the reading contest with "China Blue Eyes." "In Italy" was the selection sung by Virginia Baker. She received third place. Ruth Barnhart's essay, "Why We Have A Constitution," took first place.

Commercial Group

The Commercial Group consists of Auburn High School students who have shown extraordinary efficiency in typing, shorthand, or bookkeeping during the year. The group is not organized for social or business purposes, but is formed to provide entrants to the commercial contests and other scholastic achievements.

The first commercial contest in which the group took part this year was held April 12 in Kendallville. Winners from this contest participated in the state finals held at Ball Teachers College in Muncie, Indiana, April 26. The teams were composed of three students from each of the three commercial subjects.

In former years the typing classes were instructed by both Mr. Gumpp and Miss Foulke. Due to the increase in the number of students taking commercial training, all of the typing classes were supervised by Miss Foulke while Mr. Gumpp taught the classes in shorthand and bookkeeping. The success attained by the students has been due largely to the efforts of those two instructors.

The students in the group representing the various events were: Typing—Barbara Brandon, Wilma Weaver, Cleon Frank, Emile Hord, Audrey Hook, Delores Boren, Ethel Grogg, Dorothy Madden; Shorthand—Myrtle Sockrider, Helen Smith, Helen Snyder, Ruth Clement, Ruth Barnhart; Bookkeeping—Wilma Becker, Marcelle Carper, Geneva Martin, Robert Thimlar, Randall Smith.

Manual Training

Auburn's Manual Training Department is very fortunate in having as its instructor, Mr. Cosper. It has an adequate supply of materials and equipment to make the department one of the best in high school.

Manual Training has been considered a Freshman subject since 1919, though a student in any class may take it. Students spend the first semester of each school year in learning instructions concerning mechanical drawings, and in text book work. The second semester they do bench and cabinet work and wood turning. After the students have completed their required work, sufficient time is left to allow them to complete some original project. This gives them practice in originating and planning new creations, adds interest to the work, and aids them in manual training lines.

The class helps the school by making benches for boys' and girls' dressing rooms, by making cabinets, repairing broken desks and chairs, and by making the equipment and other necessities needed in the presentation of the high school plays and operettas.

One of the most interesting accomplishments of the class is the erecting of the additional room to the shop. This new space adds to the convenience of the scholars.

Girls' Vocational

A Vocational club was organized again this year. Officers selected to head its activities were R. Smith, Pres.; B. Wyatt, V. Pres.; D. Hefty, Sec.-Treas. The meetings were held on the second Thursday of the month.

During the preceding summer, under the supervision of Miss Jenkins, the department fostered summer club work classes including sewing, baking, and health. The work was very successful as many prizes were won by the entrants in both the county and state fair exhibits. The following won first prizes at the state fair: Mary Krise, first year sewing; Mildred Huff, second year sewing; Katherine Moughler, third year sewing; Mary Krise, first year baking; and Ruth Freeman, second year baking.

In the January Round-Up at Purdue, Katherine Moughler took fifth prize, Mildred Huff took eleventh, and Ruth Freeman, Honorable Mention.

A project of this club was the selling of candy at noons and after school hours to high school students, under the supervision of Miss Kreft. A feature during October was the entertaining of the Vocational Boys with a Hallowe'en Party.

Expenses of the department were defrayed by selling confections at the basketball and tournament games. Also, a bake sale was held in January. The proceeds were used to pay the expenses of the girls attending the Purdue Round-Up in May.

Boys' Vocational

Class meetings were held bi-weekly with the following officers in charge: K. Rastenburg, pres.; J. Davidson, Vice-Pres.; J. Smith, Sec.; and R. Souders, Treas.

During the summer months each boy carried a club project in addition to his regular school work. An elimination contest in livestock judging was held in August. J. Smith, D. Delong, and H. Emme placed first, second, and third, respectively. These three boys represented DeKalb county at the State Fair held in Indianapolis. Smith also won a trip to Washington, D. C., with all expenses paid, for his outstanding club work.

In the county H. Emme won first place and P. Provines second in the Chester White Club and H. Provines first in the Duroc Jersey Club. In the calf club J. Kelly won the blue ribbon with his purebred Jersey calf.

In the county potato club exhibit, first year class, L. Cameron placed first, B. Drerup, second, and R. Souders, third. In record books L. Cameron placed first, K. Berry second, and R. Souders third. In the advanced class H. Emme placed first in exhibit, D. Delong second, and R. Shoudel third.

Among the corn contestants W. Drerup was first, H. Emme second, J. Smith third, and K. Berry fourth. At the State potato show H. Emme was seventh with his exhibit and second with his record book, and B. Drerup ninth in exhibit.

The Whole Town's Talking

The Junior-Senior play, "The Whole Town's Talking," concerns a modern American family. The daughter comes home from Chicago bringing with her a dapper young man, Roger Shields. The father is determined upon Ethel's marrying Chet Binney, his business partner and father and Chet fix up a scheme to attract Ethel to Chet. In the plan it seems that Letty Lythe, a Movie Queen has fallen for "quiet Chester."

The plan works beautifully until the famous Letty comes to Sandusky to make a personal appearance. Trouble begins, for her burly fiance, Donald Swift, comes with her. Sadie Bloom, a rough and ready dancing teacher, whom Papa Simmons has hired to teach him to dance, turns up at the house just at the wrong moment. Full of laughs and suspense the play ends happily with all reconciled.

In Arcady

"In Arcady" takes place on the scientific farm of the Hon. James Woodbine at Arcady, New England. The plot centers around Jack, a mysterious young man working on the farm, and Virginia Woodbine. Everyone but Prudence Brier, the village postmistress, and Jane, the local telephone operator, thinks Jack is a criminal. Riggs, manager of the farm is to marry Virginia. However, after many misunderstandings and explanations Jack is cleared and finds Virginia the simple genuine girl he has been hunting for.

The stage in the McIntosh auditorium was prepared with special sets for "In Arcady." A white fence draped with flowers graced the back part of the stage and behind the fence there was a curtain depicting a roadway scene. A laboratory was at left stage and a woods at right. The art class and shop group made the sets.

Special Awards

John Smith

Vocational Awards

The agriculture boys boast John as one of their number. He is a Senior. In previous years he had won a trip to Purdue, one to the State Fair and other lesser awards too numerous to mention. He reached his climax this season by winning a trip to Washington, D. C., with all expenses paid.

Howard Emme

Vocational Awards

Howard merits a place in this section by winning twenty-two ribbons, as a result of participating in both county and state contests. His corn exhibits and his farm management manuals showed exceptional talent and careful work. He should make a very good farmer because he has both the theoretical and practical sides of farming. He was also a prize winner in live stock raising.

Edward Blum

Discussion

Auburn High School was represented in the county and district contests in discussion by Edward. His subject was "Does Indiana Need a New Constitution?" He won first place in the county contest. We all are sorry that he will not be on the stage for A. H. S. next season when the contest opens again.

Special Awards

Horace Clarke

Piano Solo

Horace won for A. H. S. a second cup representing a first place in the County Piano Contest. His playing is an excellent type and as he is a Sophomore, he can be relied upon to win twice yet, and perhaps advance far in the District and State contests. This year his winning selection was one of Beethoven's sonatas.

Ruth Barnhart

Typing Award

Ruth was the most talented typing student in her class. She was a member of the commercial group that represented A. H. S. in the commercial contests. Her biggest achievement was in winning the ten dollar gold piece given by the Woman's Professional Club for the most efficient commercial student.

Glenn Rieke

Oratory

Glenn's achievements were splendid in spite of the limited previous experience he had had. He had a well constructed speech on the Constitution of the United States. The county contest was not difficult for Glenn to win, but he lost the District meet. After listening to his speech, we feel that the "best man doesn't always win."

School Banking

"A penny saved is a penny earned." Each Tuesday during the school year every member of Auburn High School followed this motto.

The Seniors started out on the first bank day with 100% and kept up this standard on through the whole year. Ever since the fourth week of school all four classes succeeded in banking 100%. A contest between the classes was held. The winning class had the privilege of choosing between being entertained and furnishing the entertainment themselves.

Seventeen cashiers in the school collected the deposit slips before the money was taken to the City National Bank. The banking was done during the first period each Tuesday. Katheryn Scott, Wanita Rinehold, Hilda Mae Shearer, Esther Young, and Nora Mae Carr were Freshmen cashiers; William Mock, Iris Wimer, Woodrow Drerup, Reath Phillips, and Georgia Musser—Sophomore; Rachel Ball, Lela Provines, Emile Hord, Robert Graham—Juniors; and Hilda Harris, June Peters, and Agnes Shine—Senior cashiers.

The thrift program is of practical purpose in stimulating activities and is of great educational value. Every time except the first month, Auburn High School rated 100% on the Honor Roll of the "Thrift Almanack," a pamphlet published five times during the school year to encourage school banking. It is the hope of the school that the oncoming classes of A. H. S. will help keep up this record.

ATHLETICS

You're a big pest but I like you just the same. Don't forget

history class.

Always yours

Athletics

Football, basketball, track: each sport has its own enthusiasts. Squads of energetic boys dig up the sod, shoot at the basket, or burn the cinder track. Auburn High is fortunate in being represented by hard playing, sports-minded, capable athletes. We have attempted to imbue these pages with the spirit of these students.

Coach Young

"Zeke" has held the destinies of Auburn High Squads for several years. He has succeeded in sending four teams to the finals of the regional tourneys, but has been nosed out by a few points from being allowed to participate in the state meets. He made the best record that has been had in football since its re-establishment, losing but one game. His track team succeeded in winning the Northeastern Indiana conference championship.

Athletic Association

All students purchasing season basketball tickets and all students on athletic squads are considered as members of the Athletic Association. All problems that arise in reference to athletics are the concern of the Association.

The students have the management of the Association, but two of the Faculty are counted as officials. Students who held positions as officers were Harold Davidson, President; Hilda Harris, Secretary; and William Hunter, Business Manager. Mr. Schooley was treasurer, and Mr. Fribley was the faculty supervisor. Each handled his position capably. Bill had charge of pep sessions and accompanied the team on all trips.

H. Davidson, Hunter, Harris, Schooley

Coach Hendricks

"Burkie's" third year as coach of the girl's team has been a repetition of her first. Her team lost one game in twenty played. They were defeated once and won once from the 1929 state championship team, Wabash. Thus Auburn was tied with Wabash for the state championship this year.

Mrs. Hendricks has charge of gym classes, and instills her pupils with the same pep that has put her basketball teams into prominence in Northern Indiana.

Yell Leaders and Basketball Captains

Harold Davidson led both the football and basketball teams this year. His playing in both sports was worthy of notice. He will be absent from the squads next year.

Hilda Harris was captain of the girls' basketball team for the second time. Through her steady playing and example she led her team to a tie for the State Championship.

For the first time in several years A. H. S. had but one yell leader. Vernon Shaw was that one: none other was necessary. His agility and his earnestness made him a capable leader. He will be on hand next year with the same pep, agility, and enthusiasm that carried the teams through exciting moments this year.

H. Davidson, Harris, H. Davidson, Shaw

Boys' Team

George Stebing, "Jud"

A steady, fast, and dependable floor guard is lost in Stebing. He has played four years on the squad. He captained the team his junior year.

Kurt Rastenburg, "Kurt"

Kurt has finished his last year with Auburn. He was a valuable man for the team in his backguard position, steadying the team in exciting moments.

Fred Quance, "Freddy"

For the second consecutive year Freddy has been the high point man of the team. He will be absent from the squad next year.

James Huffman, "Jim"

This is Jim's second year on the squad. He has played in every game and will be depended upon next year in a forward or center position.

Harry Hathaway, "Shorty"

Shorty has seldom failed to get the tip for Auburn. He is able to reach to a surprising height. His under-the-basket shots in the Sectional Tourney were valuable in our victory.

Boys' Team

Edward Welch, "Eddie"

Eddie was one of the three juniors on the squad this year. He is a fast player and a good shot. Next year he will be a regular.

Homer Freeman, "Mose"

It was always a difficult task to prophesy who would start a game, Mose or Kurt. Mose succeeded in making the squad his Senior year and proved a steady and hard working player.

Robert Thimlar, "Bob"

This was Bob's second and last year on the squad. He was a splendid shot and a strategist.

Richard McClure, "Bud"

Bud was not handicapped by his lack of height. He played the center position and played it well. He is the third junior on the squad.

Webster Albright, "Web"

The only sophomore on the squad, Web handled himself well in his first year of varsity competition. He plays floorguard. Albright drives hard all the time he is on the floor.

Summary of Season

After two weeks of practice Coach Young took his team to Ashley where the Auburn archeologists defeated their opponents by a good score, November 8.

The Butler team was our guest the next week. It was unable to cope with Auburn's line of defense and left our team on the long end of the score.

The team met Angola, November 22, and at the end of 40 minutes of good playing downed its old rivals, thus taking home the victory keg which Angola held for several months.

The Auburn teams next contested the Decatur Yellow Jackets who came to Auburn bearing a grudge acquired in a football game there. This fast team defeated us by four points. This was our Thanksgiving game, November 27.

The archeologists uncovered a priceless treasure when they defeated South Side of Fort Wayne in a real game of basketball on December 6. The crack of the gun gave Auburn a five point victory.

The Auburn squad took it's fifth victory when it met Wawaka December 7. Score 39-19.

Auburn's luck changed when Huntington won a well-earned victory over them on December 13. Both teams displayed fine basketball but our team lacked the drive necessary to come out on top. Score 29-33.

The squad traveled north to meet LaGrange on the 14th and added another game to its treasures, 53 to 29.

Kendallville visited us December 20, and ended the tilt by beating the Auburn goal diggers 23-12.

Auburn met the Columbia City Eagles on their floor, December 31, and gained revenge for the defeat the Eagles handed us in last year's tourney in Garrett. Auburn won 49 to 36.

The following Friday the squad ventured to Bluffton where it was defeated in a close contest, 33-37. The game was a thriller from start to finish but Auburn was unable to hold the Bluffton five in the last few minutes of play.

Central of Fort Wayne came into our territory, January 10, to claim a victory. At the end of the regular playing period Auburn had tied the score at 38 all. In the overtime battle Central scored two baskets from the field to Auburn's one field goal and a free throw which gave the visitors a victory of one point.

January 17, the team traveled south to Decatur where they were defeated by a small margin. The Yellow Jackets covered up the Auburnites who were unable to regain their old fight.

A glorious victory over our old rivals, Kendallville, was the beginning of a successful run of games. Date: January 24. Score: 34-29.

Wolf Lake brought her five basketeers to Auburn on January 25 only to be defeated 44 to 18.

Our dear rivals and neighbors of the Railroad City challenged us to a game which proved a surprise for them. Our archeologists covered them well, swamping Garrett 45-22. Score was 9 to 0 before Garrett got hold of the ball.

The next Friday, February 7, found Angola over here after the big treasure, the victory keg. But Angola was forced to return unsuccessful, defeated 42-24.

A team of Redskins came from North Side of Fort Wayne to stage a thrilling combat with the Auburnites. Five minutes to go the score stood Auburn 31 and North Side 15. During the next three minutes Fort Wayne made seven baskets out of seven shots. Final score: Auburn 31, North Side 29.

Auburn's thirteenth victory came at the expense of the Ligonier squad on February 21. Ligonier covered up in the first half never to trouble us again throughout the game.

The goal diggers thus ended one of the best seasons on record for Auburn. Six conference games were won and three lost. Auburn stands third in the Northeastern Indiana High School Athletic Conference in basketball.

The member of the squad who made the largest percentage of his foul shots received a silver loving cup. Every one worked hard to win but George Stebing topped the group. It was the second year in succession that he had won the cup, and likewise, Fred Quance was the second best shot for two years. George now holds two cups to grace his family mantle.

Banquets were offered the boys by many fans after the season and the tourneys were over. Business manager, coach, and squad members attended banquets given by firms, students, and individual fans.

Sweaters were awarded Freeman, McClure, Thimlar, and Welch, the only members of the squad who had not received sweaters previously.

McClure, Welch, and Huffman are the members of the squad who will return next year.

Tournaments

The sectional tournament was held in Garrett again this year. Auburn entered the tourney with practically the same team they had last year: H. Davidson, G. Stebing, K. Rastenburg, F. Quance, J. Huffman, E. Welch, H. Hathaway, and H. Freeman.

Auburn opened the tourney with a close game against Butler. A margin of two points gave us the right to stay in the tournament.

In the first game Saturday morning with Spencerville, Auburn won by ten points, thus going to the semi-finals with Garrett. There was a game!

Garrett obtained the first two baskets. Auburn settled down and evened the score. At the end of the half, Auburn had a three point lead. In the second half it was anybody's game. The small margin of lead see-sawed back and forth. The last five minutes Auburn took a five point lead and stalled till the end. The game ended 15-20.

Auburn and Angola met in the finals for the sectional championship. This game was another thriller. Angola had one of the easiest schedules of the tournament and was in very good condition. The first half ended 8-10 in favor of Angola.

In the beginning of the second half Auburn forged ahead six points. Then again Angola took the lead. The lead zig-zagged again. When the gun sounded at the end of the regular period the score was tied. After two minutes of rest the overtime started. In the first minute of play Captain Davidson scored a basket from the field which put us in the lead two points. And to these two points Auburn froze until the gun!! The tournament was won!

The first tourney was won. The cry of the students was "On to the State." The basketball boys, after a week-end rest practiced hard in order to be in shape for the Regional Tourney. Daytime practice was held in order that the team would be accustomed to afternoon play and light. All members of the squad fought hard for the berths on the first ten, that group of well deserving athletes that were allowed to enter the tourney. The eight who had played the previous week were entered, with the addition of Thimlar, guard, and McClure, center.

Coach Young was satisfied that his charges were in shape for the next tourney.

The regional tournament was held in the Alumni Gym in Auburn March 8.

The first game was between Milford and Auburn at 2 o'clock. This was a tight contest. Auburn was forced into a hard battle. The first half ended with Auburn five points in the lead. In the second half Milford came back strong and the score was tied twice. Two minutes before the end of the game Hathaway connected with a shot under the basket which gave Auburn the two point margin. They held the lead at the sound of the gun.

The three o'clock game was between Kendallville and Lima. Lima had one of the pluckiest teams that has played on our floor. Lima led at the half by a good margin. Kendallville tied the score at the end of the game, due to a foul called on Lima in the last fifteen seconds of play. This foul put out Lima's best guard. Kendallville scored in the overtime.

The Kendallville team walked away with us in the finals—and on to the State Tournament at Indianapolis. Kendallville, as always, was a worthy foe, for whom we have the profoundest respect.

Unusually poor officials marked this tournament as an unpleasant one to remember.

Ruth

Girls' Team

Ruth Bartels, "Ruth"

Ruth is our strong right guard. She played in every game this year and surely did her share in bringing the team through to victory. This is Ruth's last year.

Marium Weidner, "Mary"

Yes, Mary is that flashy side-center. Four years on the floor has made her entirely too quick for her opponents. Sorry to say Mary is a senior too.

Vivian Refner, "PeeWee"

Vivian is a sophomore and she surely knows how to play basketball. She was always there with pep and fight. We are glad she will be back next year.

Mabel Williams, "Mabel"

A very dependable guard who most assuredly knows how to play basketball. As a pair, Ruth and she proved most successful.

Betty Lige, "Betty"

Betty is our tall jump-center. When it comes to getting the tip-off she is right there. Betty consistently out jumped and out played her opponent. A. H. S. is sorry this is her last year; the coach will find it difficult to replace her.

Girls' Team

Geneva Martin, "Geneva"

Geneva played in seven games this year and proved herself to be very reliable. This was her first year to try the basketball squad and it was very successful. Geneva is a senior.

Virginia Baker, "Gin"

This is the first year Gin has made the squad, although it is her last year in A. H. S. She played either side-center or forward, wherever she was needed most.

Thelma Mock, "Timmy"

Timmy turned out to be an excellent guard and next year will put her on the floor with Mabel as her partner. Although only five games are to her credit for this year we are sure that next year she will be in all of them.

Bernedette Guild, "Bernie"

This was Bernie's first attempt at the squad. As a jump-center she was found dependable. Sad to relate, she also is a senior.

Marcelle Carper, "Marcelle"

Another senior girl made a good forward on the team. Marcelle was always there with pluck and determination. She played in five games.

Summary of Season

The Auburn girls unearthed fourteen victories and buried one defeat for their record again this year. Their only defeat was suffered at Wabash from the hands of the Snowballs. Auburn was pelted 31-17. However, in return for the ruination of the locals' plan to win all games this year, those shots were tossed back to Wabash three weeks later, 17-23.

Twenty-two girls participated in the fifteen games scheduled for the year. Vivian Refner, Mabel Williams, and Ruth Bartles played in all games. Marium Weidner contended for victories in fourteen games and Betty Lige thirteen. These girls were the first six on the team. Hilda Harris was elected captain again for the season.

Other girls who played in games were Geneva Martin, Marcelle Carper, Bernadette Guild, Virginia Baker, Geraldine Ratrie, and Violet Hay. The Juniors claimed Dorothy Walter, Thelma Mock, Muriel White, and Virginia Brown. Rhoda Carper, Edna Vachon, Lela Miller, Wilma Stafford, Ruth Groscup, and Helen Imhoff upheld the Sophomores. There were no Freshmen on the squad this year, but there are several prospects for next year in the class of '34.

The girls started their digging in the first game of the season by defeating Ashley, November 8, on the latter's floor by a score of 27-22. The game was somewhat slow by gross number of fouls. A week later the locals downed their old rivals, Garrett, on the home floor by a margin of 19 points. A stiff battle was put up by the neighboring town, but the Red and Black kept up good work and so led throughout the game.

Decatur appeared Thanksgiving Eve on Auburn's floor, but returned home with a defeat. Coach Hendricks gave most of her reserves a chance to participate in this game. The final score was 31-18.

Two weeks later the girls repaid the visit of Decatur and returned with a victory of two points. The locals were forced to dig deeper and work harder to overcome the strong defense of Decatur. The opponents led at the half by three points. But when the gun went off the Red and Black led 35-33.

Saturday night following the Decatur game the locals met Wawaka, overcoming them 38-18. Again the reserves played a large part of the game.

One week later the girls doubled the score on General Electric of Fort Wayne. The game was hard and rough. Both teams worked for every score they made. The game ended 24-12.

On December 31 Auburn visited Columbia City, winning 33-27 though our girls had not practiced since before Christmas. The New Year spirit kept them working harder on each play they made.

One of the hardest games of the season took place at the General Electric gymnasium in Fort Wayne on January 3. The half ended 2-1 in the locals favor. In the second half each team came back with determination. Luckily Auburn held the right end of the final score—11-10, Auburn's lowest score of the entire season.

Hamilton was the next team to meet defeat at Auburn's hands. This was a rather easy game. Coach Hendricks played fourteen girls, several for the first time. They piled up a score of 38 while Hamilton coaxed the ball through the hoop for only 11 points.

The ruination of the girls record came January 18 at Wabash. They were sunk by a score of 31-17. The girls tunneled in, but their efforts proved futile in trying to overcome the lead which Wabash held throughout the game. It was a bitter disappointment, but they were resolved more firmly than ever to defeat the Snowballs in the return game.

One week later Auburn made the largest score of the season by defeating Wolf Lake 57-9 on the home floor. The reserves were again given a chance to show their skill in playing.

The season's thriller took place in the Garrett gym, the following week with our old rivals. Both fought hard. The locals led most of the time when the score was not a tie. The half ended a tie at 14 all. With one minute to go Auburn was one point behind. But the spirit of the Red and Black was able to regain the lead just as the gun cracked. The final score was 29-28 for Auburn's glory.

The girls did not break their resolution to defeat the Wabash sextette in the return game on February 7. With excellent teamwork, fighting their hardest, the locals played the best game of the season. The half ended 11-7 in Auburn's favor and the final score was 23-17. Wabash had won 36 consecutive games.

February 1 marked the return game with Ashley. Only two points marked the margin at the end of the game in favor of A. H. S. The game was slow and a large number of fouls was made on both sides. Auburn was still too cocky over defeating Wabash.

The girls closed the season by defeating the New Haven girls 30-10. The game was fast and better than the score indicates. The half ended 11-6 but the locals rallied in the second half and piled up a good lead.

Graduating Lettermen

Football Season

Prospects looked bright for the 1929 football squad. Most of the boys were left from the preceeding year. In addition to all of the old squad several new men were received from the freshman class.

The football squad opened their season in Decatur, full of spirit and enthusiasm. Auburn traveled to Decatur September 14. Here they swamped the Yellow Jackets 23-0. This buoyed up A. H. S. for a successful season.

North Side of Ft. Wayne tied Auburn the following Saturday 6-6. The game was thrilling all the way through, although Auburn was not playing up to standard.

The next game, September 28, Auburn traveled to Ohio to meet a much heavier team at Defiance. Here Auburn met her first and only defeat of the season by a score of 26-6. On the kickoff a criss-cross play, Hunter to Davidson, gave Auburn her only score. The rest of the game our speed could not overcome the weight of the opponents.

Bluffton tied Auburn on October 5, with a score 6-6. The Bluffton touchdown was made in the last minute of the game on a long pass. Early in the game Groscup broke his arm.

Undergraduate Lettermen

Football Season

Thursday, October 17, Auburn defeated Garrett in their annual struggle 13-6. Garrett led until the last eight minutes of play. Some neat teamwork by Davidson and Hunter brought us our first seven points. The last game of the season was played in Columbia City, October 26. Twelve Seniors saw action in this game. Auburn won with a score 26-6. The freshman team was used the last few minutes.

Auburn tied Central of Fort Wayne for the Northeastern Indiana High School Conference football championship. This was one of the most successful football seasons in the history of Auburn High School.

Two games were forfeited to Auburn during the season. On October 12, Huntington did not fulfill her bargain. Again on September 28 Kendallville forfeited a game for lack of a team. However, a game was scheduled with Defiance, Ohio.

Several weeks after the season had closed twelve boys were given silver footballs. There were twenty-three boys who received letters this season.

A. H. S. suffered a heavy loss this year by losing twelve men. Although the loss is great, prospects look good for next year.

1929 Track Team Summary of Season

Last year marked the best track season A. H. S. has ever had. The first meet was an invitational event at Kendallville. Several teams participated. In this meet Raymond Cool set two records, one in the standing high jump and the other in the backward jump. All of the boys did well. For the first time in track history Auburn was the winner of the Kendallville field meet.

The Auburn squad competed with Garrett in a dual meet on the following Saturday, our team winning all but three first places. This made the squad winner of another meet.

The gang returned to Garrett the next week to decide the county champion track team. Auburn sprinted to victory again. Only five teams entered this meet: Garrett, Butler, Ashley, Spencerville, and Auburn.

The South Side Relays were won by Auburn. These were the most thrilling events of the season. Auburn was behind until the last event, when the fellows broke through for victory.

Again Auburn traveled to Fort Wayne to compete against Central, Kendallville, and Garrett in a quadrangular meet. The score was close at all times. However, Auburn was defeated by Central two and one third points.

Nearing the end of the 1929 track season all teams of the North Eastern Indiana High School Conference met at Garrett to decide the Conference championship. Auburn won this meet by a large margin and was awarded a silver cup. She has the right to hold it in her possession until another team defeats her in the conference meet. This is the first year Central of Fort Wayne has not held it in her possession.

The last meet of the season was the district meet in Garrett. Elkhart won this meet. Five Auburn track men here earned the right to enter the state meet. These men were Hunter, McClure, Kee, Myers, and Stebing.

Hunter was the only member of the squad to take a point at Indianapolis. He won fifth place in the 220 yard dash. McClure was in the 100 yard dash, Stebing in the 220 low hurdles, Kee ran the 120 yard high hurdles, and Myers was entered in the half mile race. A heavy rain hindered our boys, as well as the other teams. McClure, Hunter, and Stebing should take points in the state meet this year held on May 24, and should be accompanied by several others. The squad also intertwines the hope of rewinning the Northeastern Indiana conference meet again.

Basketball Second Team Summary of Season

Several players on the Auburn second team had experience last year. There were also several Freshmen who helped make a winning team. Zeke will need several of these boys to fill the vacancies in the varsity team for 1931.

The seconds played their first game with the Hamilton five, who were ranked about the average in the district. The Auburn seconds proved to be the better team, defeating them 18-12.

November the twenty-second our squad beat Angola 18-16 in a fast game. This team was the first second team to score a victory for A. H. S. over the Angola reserves in a number of years.

Decatur sent her second team to Auburn to bring home victory, which they were accustomed in doing, but Auburn defeated them 19-10. This game was played at 4:00 o'clock on November 26.

Each Thursday and Friday the Interclass Basketball games furnished excitement for both participants and spectators. All four classes were well represented by good teams. The Senior class succeeded in winning the bulk of games. They played the entire season with no defeats, though the faculty managed to tie the score in one game.

The boys who represented the Senior class were D. Cosper, E. Kraft, J. Smith, E. Thomson, R. Smith, C. Groscup, J. Balzer, and R. Shoudel.

Second place was won by the Sophomores whose team was made up of R. Webb, S. Scott, W. Mock, R. Herrick, B. Grube, P. George, and E. Baker.

Representatives of the Junior class were J. Sprott, S. Myers, J. Fitzsimmons, R. West, C. Rose, R. Knott, W. Kruse, R. Shook, and S. Palmer.

The Freshman team, made up of some snappy small boys placed fourth. W. Dwight, M. Cornell, F. Coscarelly, G. Wyatt, R. Holben, and C. Dewitt composed this team.

In many games this year an excellent type of basketball was displayed. At times the rivalry between the teams became almost over-heated. From these teams Coach Young selects material for the second team.

First row—McNamara, West

Second row—Minard, Cosper, McComb, George, Cook

Noon League Basketball

Noon League games have been a regular part of school life. Eleven teams of seven boys each composed the groups of contestants. All teams played ten games. The games were played at 12:00 to 1:00 each noon. This provided good sport during noon hours throughout the season.

Every team selected the name of a car to serve as an identification. Cars represented were Ford, Auburn, Cord, Chevrolet, Dodge, Chrysler, Essex, Hudson, Cadillac, Buick, and Roosevelt. At the end of the scheduled season three teams were tied for first place. These were Cadillac, Ford, and Chevrolet. The Fords were successful in winning the play-off. Members of the winning teams were D. Cosper, captain, J. Cook, P. George, F. McNamara, R. West, E. McCombs, and F. Minard.

Interest and attendance at the games showed a decided increase over previous years. Both the players and the spectators enjoyed the contests and intense feeling cropped up at times. Good sportsmanship was prevalent at all times.

Boys not out for the varsity or second teams are able to enjoy the physical and mental benefits of basketball.

Athletic Prospects

The football team next year will be practically as strong as last year. Several new men will be found in the lineup. The boys that will be lost by graduation this year are Hipskind, Groscup, Hathaway, Timberlin, Quance, Hunter, Thimlar, Davidson, Thomson, Stebing, Freeman, Imhoff, and McNamara.

Those who will compose the team next year are McClure, Huffman, Baker, J. Davidson, Graham, Welch, West, Shaw, Dewitt, Lash, Dwight, Snow, Fitzsimmons, and a few freshmen.

There will be a whole new backfield which will be very light but their speed will overcome their lack of weight. The line will be able to take care of its part of the work in fine shape. The team as a whole has had less experience than the preceeding squad, but the team of 1930 can be counted upon to uphold the Red and Black.

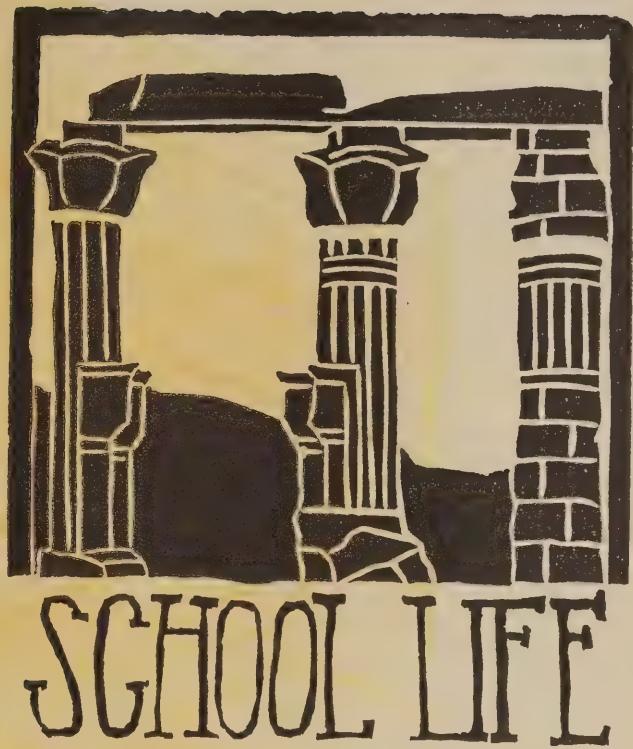

The teams scheduled to oppose the Red and Black next year are Decatur, Garrett, Bluffton, North Side, South Side, and Columbia City. Three of these games will be played in Auburn.

The boys basketball team will suffer a heavy loss this year. Those leaving are Harold Davidson, George Stebing, Kurt Rastenberg, Fred Quance, Harry Hathaway, and Homer Freeman. Even so, the prospects are good for next year.

Next year's squad will consist of James Huffman, Richard McClure, Edward Welch, Webster Albright, Arthur Drerup, Junior Fitzsimmons, Ralph West, Joe Davidson, Harley Trovinger, and probably some freshmen.

The prospects for the girls team are Rhoda Carper, Vivian Refner, Thelma Mock, Mable Williams, Dorothy Walter, Helen Imhoff, Wilma Stafford, Lela Miller, and several who have shown spirit in the games.

Many positions will need to be filled on next years track team. Hunter, Timberlin, Hipskind, Groscup, Stebing, Imhoff, L. Price, Quance, and Davidson will be graduated. Next years squad will be made up of Huffman, Peters, Lash, McClure, J. Davidson, Price, and Bishop.

SCHOOL LIFE

School Life

Memories of School Life are not mere recollections of the routine of study or of classes. They are remembrances of those scenes and events associated with toil and pleasure. They are reminders of those contacts symbolic of friendship. We have endeavored to place in these pages the true occurrences of our school year, in order that each reader, as he searches this book, may view his school life in the light of his own experience.

Chatterbox Staff

The Chatterbox, published every two weeks, keeps its staff busy gathering and assembling news articles and feature stories. The members are here correcting articles that seem worthy of being put upon the press.

Winter Sports

Many students enjoy ice skating, sledding, and ice boating on the lakes during the winter months. The last season, ice-boating has gained in popularity, several students owning motor driven boats. This one shown here is one of the most powerful and likewise one of the speediest.

Trophies

In the past several years of interscholastic competition Auburn students have succeeded in winning many prizes. The school has a large number of banners, pennants, and cups. Many expendable prizes like money and trips have also been won. Some of the above cups were won by groups, and some by individuals.

Ninth Hour

Students who have been tardy without excuse must make up the lost time after school. Some evenings several offenders, generally boys, gather in room ten to work, as a result of their carelessness.

Vocational Trip

The boys in the Agriculture Department have included in their course trips to farms to get information first hand. This group is collecting data and practicing stock judging while on one of the excursions.

Automobile Row

There are so many students who drive into Auburn to school each day that a parking space had to be provided. This space shows much activity at the beginning of school in the morning and at four o'clock.

Basketball Practice

Auburn High School is proud of her athletic teams. Participants in each sport practice faithfully. The basketball boys have the longest season to practice, but evidently enjoy it, as they never give voice to complaints.

Annual Staff

The publishing of a yearbook entails a large amount of work with copy, cover, stock, and pictures. Members of the staff are required to spend a good deal of time with this work. Several of the staff are shown here preparing copy.

Pep Session

Monday and Friday of each week a pep session was held in the Auburn gym at 12:30. Here the athletic contests were discussed and stunts were given. One of the prominent performances was the Chatterbox wedding, to encourage the purchase of subscriptions during the midyear drive.

Short Course

A short course in livestock and soils was sponsored by Purdue University, and was presented in the Alumni gym. Agriculture students attended and the Hi-Y boys acted as doorkeepers and rolltakers.

Hi-Y

The Hi-Y is an organization of Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Boys. Luncheons are held each Tuesday. The picture shows members as waiters at the Y. M. C. A. Mother-and-Daughter Banquet.

Hookey Wagon

Mrs. MacDonald, attendance officer, sometimes catches students who try to skip school. She is seen here bringing back two boys to be reprimanded by the principal!

C. M. T. C.

During the summer several boys represent A. H. S. at the Citizens Military Training Camp. Here they have wholesome fun and are taught to be capable of helping our country in case of any international difficulty.

Bulletin Board

Every one depends upon the bulletin board. On it are posted the lost and found notices, announcements, and articles of interest to faculty and pupils alike.

8:30

Eight-thirty finds laggard students rushing to reach the assembly before the last gong. Sometimes some are unsuccessful. These two boys are hurrying to be on time.

Football

Football has at last regained its standing as a major sport. It has many followers in the High School. Coach Young giving his squad some advice just before a game has become a familiar sight to all the fans of that sport.

Woodshop

Those students taking a manual training course are familiar with the Woodshop located on the Harrison school grounds. The shop is furnished with excellent equipment and is very efficient. The boys, under Mr. Cosper, have completed many projects, including an addition onto the building in which they work.

Fire Drill

Once a month, due to a state requirement, the students engage in fire drill. By this practice disorder can be avoided in an actual case of fire. At the ringing of the gong, a group of boys here demonstrated the quickness and efficiency gained by these drills.

Athletic Field

The athletic field with its grandstand, football field, and track holds a prominent part in our athletic program. It has seen several prospective champions, and has been the site of the downfall of many teams. To those boys actively engaged in athletics it is most familiar.

Girls' Gymnastics

On spring days Mrs. Hendricks, girls' gym instructor, takes classes out-of-doors instead of into the gym. Here they either play baseball games, engage in calisthenics, or participate in the simple tumbling exercises.

Press Convention

Representatives of the school publications are sent each year to the Indiana High School Press Association held at Franklin. They are accompanied by a faculty member. They always bring back valuable information.

Leaping Lena

There is a prevalence of Fords in the cars driven by the students. The largest number of them are without decorations of any kind. A few have been painted with bright colored hues by their owners, however. This one belongs to a Junior boy.

Noon Play

In the Spring everyone's thoughts turn to the out-of-doors. Boys have fun out back of the school building. The vaulter shown here had stated that he would show the fellows "form as is form."

BIG CATASTOPHE AT POKER FLAT

MISCREANTS ARE CAPTURED

One Gang Member Escapes

A great grief has settled over the inhabitants of Poker Flat. Those famous gangmen, Cale Dosper, Ignatz Rieke, Obert Rimhoff, and Horsehair Blum are the responsible people.

One week ago these four villains, in the disguise of scientists, descended upon Poker Flat and commenced a number of queer experiments.

Boring a hole to the exact center of the earth, they dropped a plumb line to its bottom. Then taking another line, they placed it at right angles to the plumb line.

Their fiendish joy was unbounded when they found that Poker Flat was indeed not flat, but was curved, for the ground was not the same distance from the second line at all points.

Waiting two days, Cale Dosper, the leader, announced to the inhabitants the above discovery.

The townspeople were enraged at the gall of these strangers in ruining both the name and the honor of their town. Led by Mayor Kraft, they staged an attack upon the villains in their hotel. After Blacksmith Sebring battered down the door, Policeman Dwight opened fire, injuring Mayor

Kraft. Time out was taken to celebrate this event. At the continuance of the fight, Dosper, seeing the ferocity of the people, attempted to escape on his scooter, but was brought down by Thomas's trusty bean shooter. Ignatz Rieke broke his jaw in an effort to talk his way out of the jam. Showing his true colors at last, Horsehair Blum, the boldest and worst of them all, died from fright.

One man, Rimhoff, escaped. By using sleight of hand, he wafted himself from his opponents' sight. Therein lies the grief of the Poker Flatters. He got away.

So beware, Mr. Obert Rimhoff, your life will always be in danger from this outrage.

HI-Y DISCOVERS NEW FOOD

After careful study and much time under the leadership of Professor Fisheye Rieke, this organization of youthful dumb-bells has finally succeeded in discovering a new food, and it isn't fish food either. The main difficulty now seems to be teaching Chef Horsehair Blum to cook this delicacy.

Oh! We almost forgot to tell you what this new wonder is. Well, folks, it's "BEANS"!!!

Late Bulletin: King Tut has announced the completion of his latest pyramid.

BIG BLOWOUT PULLED OFF

Big Convention Held By Jameses

One of the most brilliant events of the spring whirl of society took place at Lake James last Saturday when a group of Jameses assembled for a picnic.

Besides eating, there were various other forms of entertainment. James Huffman delivered in a charming manner the speech given by King James at the battle of Jamestown. James Balzer, who is noted for his blues singing, gave the company a treat when he sang "St. James Infirmary Blues."

Our local wonder rider, Jesse James, gave his audience a thrill when he jumped his horse, Jumpin' Jimminy, from one side of Lake James to the other. In addition to these forms of entertainment, there was a swimming contest staged. This was won by James Capen, but Jim Shoe came in a close second.

Everything was going along smoothly when James Morr had to jim the works by sinking his canoe in the midst of the Lake. Jim Nasium quickly ran to the rescue, and proved successful in bringing the dripping James to shore.

The party finally broke up, and the members flew home in Jim Class's aeroplane.

FRESH AIR STUDY ROOM

The new Fresh Air Study Room has caused much comment in the student body. This writer is in favor of more of these rooms. Isn't it easy to imagine the nice chills playing tag in your spine, that pleasant feeling of cold toes, that delightful consciousness of a red nose, the warm cozy feeling that goose flesh gives. Ah! If only more pupils could enjoy these privileges. Let's make a petition for it, students.

GHASTLY GHOUl GANG GONE

Sleuth Stebing Starts Stampede

The notorious master of excavations "Ghoul" Gumpp, brought his infamous career to a close today by surrendering to the famous detective, George Stebing.

Detective Stebing had for several years been on the trail of this famous grave digger and his gang, nearly capturing him at times but always barely failing to do so. However, this chase, as in all others, was won by perseverance and diligence.

This chase started three weeks ago. Sleuthfoot Stebing, upon entering a graveyard in the half acre suburb of Auburn Junction, to pick wildflowers, caught Gumpp and his gang in the act of removing a coffin. Gumpp jumped into a sixteen cylinder Ford hidden behind a gravestone. "Bull" Stebing's model "T" was too fast for his car however and he soon cornered the bandit in the attic of a house on the vacant lot at Subway and Dugout streets. The "Ghoul's" machine gun could not stop the brave Flatfoot however, and a miniature war that lasted three weeks was the result. No people in the crowd were shot.

Coming out of his trench after Gumpp failed to return his fire, Sleuth Foot dashed into the house and carried out the lifeless corpse amidst yells of joy from the crowd. It was later revealed that Gumpp was chloroformed.

An outstanding member of the gang was in the crowd. He is known to have fainted, after quoting scripture. It was none other Devil Dave Davidson. He and other members of the gang, including Hairbreath Harry Hathaway, Quinsky Quance, Witch Hazel Baum, Half Price, Black Smith, Thumbless Thimlar, Terrible Timberlin, and Wobbly Weaver, surrendered themselves to act as pallbearers. They are to be hung tomorrow.

YOUNG WINS GREAT CONTEST

Victory Disputed By Only One Other
Contestant

SMASHES OLD RECORD

The Court House Square was the scene of a scooter race last Monday at midnight. The contestants were: Don Coar, "Skeet" Weathers, "Zekiel" Young, and "Pop" Fribley. Each man, in company with his trusty scooter arrived upon the scene in due time. A huge crowd had assembled and the race began. Fribley held first place for the first three laps after which time Zeke blossomed out and ran circles around him. The contest being held after dark, light was furnished by torches. These torches were held by the members of the local History Club, who, after the contest, participated in a snake dance. Zeke came out victorious. However Fribley followed in for another basket ending the game with a score of 19 for Young and 17 for Fribley. Japanese lanterns were strung about the square, and tables were set on the Court House yard. After the contest, ice cream and pickles were served to contestants and crowd.

It is rumored that Zeke's victory was expensive in that he received a beautiful "shiner" afterwards at the hands of Fribley.

ENORMOUS FIRE RUINS SCHOOL

One would have thought Bedlam had been let loose in Auburn High when the steel lockers in the main corridor caught fire last Saturday morning at 5:30.

Everything in the building burned with the exception of the chairs, wood-work, and books. One thousand nine hundred and seventy-eight theme tablets were found in the wreckage. Not a locker nor a door knob was left. All were consumed by the dreadful fire.

None of the students were killed or wounded. This fortunate fact is due to the fact that the entire school body has been well drilled for earthquake emergencies.

It is hoped that the school will be rebuilt by 1942. Until that time school will be held in a tent which will be erected in the court house yard.

GREEN & SPROTT HASH HOUSE

Clara Green and Josephine Sprott have solved the biggest economic problem of the day by providing free food for the unemployed. These two benevolent personages have established a Charity Hash House in the County Jail, where they will serve free meals at any time during the day to those with the money to pay.

This is a very exclusive dump, with Frank Weathers as the hostess and Robert Schooley as cook.

Music will be furnished by the local drum core and the Harmonyless Sisters, Sanders and Shewmaker.

THRIFT

Two boys started out with equal chances, both working at the same place for a like salary. One started a savings account and added to it regularly. The other spent all he earned.

At the end of five years the boy who did not save, had an uncle die and leave him two thousand dollars. He decided to go into business for himself. The other boy said, "If you are going into business for yourself, I will, too, as I have saved $1800.00".

Today these boys are fifty years of age. The boy, who had the legacy left him, is working for the other one, who is a successful merchant, while his friend, who had not learned the value of THRIFT, had failed.

This is a human interest story with a good moral and presents both a pleasant and unpleasant side. Pleasant to record the success of one boy and unpleasant because one failed.

Finally I Died

I never had such a tough time in my life. First, I got angina pectoris, followed by arteriosclerosis. Just as I was recovering from these, I got tuberculosis, double pneumonia, and phthisis. Then they gave me hypodermics. Appendicitis was followed by tonsillectomy. These gave way to aphasia and hypertrophic cirrhosis. I completely lost my memory for a while. I know I had diabetes and acute indigestion, besides gastritis, rheumatism, lumbago, and neuritis. I don't know how I pulled through it. It was the hardest spelling test I've ever seen.

Sis T. — Why doesn't Dick Shook like his new Ford as well as his old one?

Bob W. — He's had it three weeks and it's run so well he can't find any excuse for taking it apart to see how it's made.

Judge: "This lady says you tried to speak to her at the station."

Salesman: "It was a mistake. I was looking for my friend's sister, whom I have never seen before, but who had been described to me as a handsome blonde with classic features, fine complexion, perfect figure, beautifully dressed and—"

Witness: "I don't care to prosecute the gentleman. Any-one might have made the same mistake."

Dear Skirts,

You're a peach but I won't want you to know it! Way back when during little ban-spoke pieces and pull up stairs I remember. And,
Carl, how about tennis? Those marvelous hits I tried to hit just wouldn't be hit. And I'll see plenty of you thro stacks of dirty dishes this summer so don't get blue. Hoping we get to splash around together at the puddles up north
I still am your friend even for promiss.

Hello Earl:

Do you think I can enjoy the guy that has to take up in English class? Nevertheless - when to go - to class.

Thank you

Hello Earl, &
am sure glad to be a class mate. We were sure had some
hot times.
Remember those

noon league games. On my
the Cadillac
was better than the old
Chevrolet 26
long. Your old friend
Earl Thomson

Dear Carl -

I know you are glad that I am writing in your annual but I hope you'll return the comp. Ged' we've had keen times and keen wars together; haven't we?
mostly the latter?" Oh' well, the kids all fight for a past time. I'd remember you my dear half-pint as my biggest pest off cold
a pt. I say you're welcome!"
Due to unforeseen circumstances I will have to stop.
as much as I hate to. Ha!
No! not sarcasm.

I'll remember me as the only "real" Darling girl friend you had in this joint.
Darling Judy Ann.

P.S on S.P anything you want - Baby Face ~~Ged~~: that name sounds familiar; doesn't it?? Don't you think I can ~~sing~~ that swell? I really meant it at the time.

Jude

Carl - you little
---- I don't know
what to write - let me think —

Oh, I have it - oh
nuts, I can't think well any way -

You're a friend too.

I of Yellow you
muse you
I have it
Class yet
Forget me
Forget me
Dear Carl
The "Best" in Person-meaning you not me. I suddenly have appreciated
the value of
in your life &
hope you'll give me a thought
once in a while
Now do try to be good this summer
if you can - stuck
by you! : )
Always a friend
Marion

Say Carl,
Do you know
what I'm going to do this summer?
I'm going to practice
and practice tennis
and maybe I'll give you a little competition — that is if
I don't get blood poison. Well, we're out of school but we'll probably still be hanging around at home
so I'll see you
some time.
"Jin" Bass

Why, hello, you cockeyed, pigeon-toed, knock-kneed cross eyed — well
that's enuff of that. Well, anyway you're a good kid, Carl, and A.K.
Plenty even if you do make me awful mad sometimes. May you live long enough to become the world's Champseen tennis wrestler. Luck to you, Carl.
Remember me as a friend,
please.

Always
Mad - J
